AZALEAS

*Once again,
The Kurume Azaleas,
Favored children
Of the Flowery Kingdom,
Offer up their sweetness
To a waking Spring.
Once again,
They spread their exotic rugs
Under the lacy trees.
So varied are their forms,
So brilliant or dainty their hues,
That you will surely find
Your heart's desire
Lurking within their smiling ranks.
And many have fragrance, too,
A haunting woodsy fragrance,
Reminding one of the long-lost springs
In forests cool.*

*F*ew flowering shrubs excel these evergreen Japanese Kurume Azaleas in variety and adaptability. For house or patio, the potted or tubbed plants supply a charming and altogether different note. Their blossoms are unequaled for cutting, as they will last for two long weeks in water. Use them for favors, leis, or simply heap them in low bowls, where their dainty freshness and color will add to the atmosphere of your home.

CULTURE

Azaleas require an acid soil, and thrive best in pure German peat. Dig a generous hole to insure ample room for an expanding root system, and fill with peat which has been thoroughly water-soaked. Top dress lightly with cotton-seed meal once every six weeks during the growing season. Use no other fertilizer. ● They enjoy a shady or semi-shady location, such as that afforded by the north side of a building or spreading trees, and must not be allowed to dry out. ● A well-chosen selection will give consistent bloom from January to April.
